

The background of the entire page is a light gray illustration of a dense crowd of people. The crowd is composed of many individual faces, some smiling, some looking forward, and some with more intense expressions. The entire crowd is enclosed within a faint, light gray grid that divides the space into rectangular sections, similar to a newspaper layout or a film strip frame. The text 'The Wild Life' is written in a bold, red, cursive script across the center of the page, with each word spanning across several of the grid's columns.

Home of the Wildlife

This is Enumclaw, our hometown. It's where we get rowdy at pep assemblies, get physical in sports, get smart in academics, get crazy at lunch, and get social with friends. Most importantly, it's where we get wild with the Hornets. This is Enumclaw High School, home of the wildlife.

Our perfect backdrop, Mt. Rainier.

Even the wildest of animals settle down once in a while. The classroom is where we Ennumclaw students get our chance to do just that. In various classes we expand our minds, improve our knowledge, and learn how to handle life. After classes are over, everyone is well prepared to become a part of the wildlife once again.

It's back to school in Mr. Dan Hennessy's room for parents at the open house.

Soon-to-be-surgeons Karin Burnside and Lynn Warren dissect a cat in human anatomy.

And now we enter the world of French with Ms. Carol Brehm's class.

Animals of a higher intelligence

"Yo Jay, Yo Jay . . ." The football cheerleaders get the crowd going with a rap at the pep assembly.

Kym Martyn keeps things rolling at the pep assembly.

Just one more marshmallow. Erikka Jameyson and Scott Borgen show their sportsmanship as they run the last leg of the relay race.

Cut Loose and be Wild

Pep assemblies give us a chance to cut loose and show our wilder side. Through various cheers, chants, relay races, class competitions, and skits each one of us gets to show the animals that we really are.

It's a spirit explosion Kellie Dyer and Karin Berg help set off the year with a bang.

Mike Lee and Mike Mitton sandwich Holgar Bartsch as he finishes a home-made bagel.

A sandwich, a smile

All right, it's lunch time! Time to go catch up on what all our friends have been up to. The seniors sit on the wall, while the underclassmen hope to get their names called in the Pursuit of Excellence drawing. When the weather is nice, there's usually a hot game of volleyball going on. Lunch is our time to let go and have some fun.

The Indian summer brings friends Stephanie Zero and Lanae Joubert outside to eat lunch.

Lunch just can't get any better for these four freshmen, Maria Petallan, Renee Teterude, Amanda Olney and Marla Agular.

"So Jeff, how many girls ya' got lined up for this weekend?" Juniors Todd Davis and Jeff Perlot talk about the weekend ahead.

Sophomores Jason Haubry, Brent Olson and Darin Reedy spend a simple sunny day in the sensational sun.

Best of buds

Our friends, they're our best buds. We laugh together, we cry together, we party together. What can we say, they're the greatest part of the wild life of the mighty Hornets. They're who we stand with in line, who we cheer with at games, they're what make us come alive!

Sometimes P.E. is just too strenuous. Brandon Young gives Bryan Vollmer a hand after a tough day on the field.

EHS's talented actors at their best. Ross Farr, Ethan May, Chris Rolczynski, and Matt Wood show their classic style for initiation to the Thespian society.

As cute as can be- Jennifer Jensen and Wendy Volmer smile while Lynn Babbitt looks on.

Best of buds and volleyball studs.

Leaders of the pack

By far the baddest of the bad and the best of the best, Enumclaw's athletes once again prove that we are a school to be reckoned with. With speed like a cheetah, strength like a bear and the determination, drive and will power that only a Hornet can have, EHS athletes are, as in the past, the leaders of the pack.

Kim Hulsey dribbles toward Enumclaw's goal.

All right! Jason Haubrey is leading the pack in the 2.5 mile run around Deep Lake.

Faking an injury, Sara Hendrickson actually did safely compete in varsity volleyball action in the fall.

Sweeping it up in the back alleys of Enumclaw, Jill Kinyon and Tracey Wolfson take part in the Thespian Society initiation.

It's time for recognition

For the past 23 years, Mr. Wes Borreson has scheduled Hornet sports contests, paid referees, prepped fields and done a variety of other tasks to help make all of our sporting activities at EHS function smoothly.

After graduating from Everett High School in 1949, Mr. Borreson went to Everett Junior College and then later graduated from Central Washington University. His two children, Mark 27, and Mike 25, both graduated from EHS. Mike has started his profession in teaching and Mark a career in the army.

Mr. Borreson started his career at Monroe Junior High, moved to Sunnyside High School and then came to EHS in 1959. He has taught U.S. history, math, biology, P.E. and even home economics. His other accomplishments have been the coaching of track, basketball and head football coach.

Mr. Borreson's work as athletic director will be greatly missed and hard to be replaced. Thank you for 29 years of hard work.

Our dedication

William J. Ainardi

teacher, coach and friend

PROUD AND HONORED

We are all to keep someone very special in mind when we recall in our memories the school year of 1987-88. This special person is Mr. William J. Ainardi.

Mr. Ainardi grew up in the little town east of the mountains, Cle Elum, where he eventually graduated from high school and then went on the graduate from Central Washington University.

He then began his teaching career at EHS in 1961, teaching throughout the years basic English, English 1-2, English 1-2 advanced and special education.

Coaching became one of his specialties. He coached ninth grade football, basketball, baseball and was the head track coach. And for his personal enjoyment, he possessed a talent for throwing horse shoes and playing softball.

In his spare time, he especially enjoyed playing tennis, reading, card playing and his most well-known hobby, fishing.

Mr. Ainardi died from cancer in December of 1987, but what is important to remember is the incredible talent he held for teaching, coaching and relating to teenagers. He managed to touch many, many people's lives. He will not be forgotten at EHS.

One thing Mr. Ainardi loved to do was to travel. Here he is on one trip, showing us that he is a ladies' man.

Mr. Ainardi enjoys a day at sea.

"He was just a great man..."
- Mr. Shelly Thiel -

"I caught one!" One of his favorite hobbies was fishing and telling fish stories.

A dedicated teacher with a sense of humor were two of Mr. Ainardi's qualities.

Head track coach became one of his specialties, along with other coaching positions.

Events

Events are the character of school. Without them, school would be boring. Events give students a break from the everyday learning routine and Enumclaw students took advantage of this by participating in many school events.

This year's goal for EHS's activities was to make them bigger and better, and for Enumclaw, this was another job well done.

A Parade, Contest and Wild Fun

Homecoming Week was filled with excitement. The week roared off to a great start with Hawaiian / Hat and Glasses Day on Wednesday. On Thursday the students showed their college spirit by wearing their favorite college sweatshirt. Finally, the week ended with Pajama Day.

Other attractions were the Homecoming parade, in which the freshmen captured first place in the float competition, and the EHS fashion show, which displayed formal dresses from Nordstrom's Brass Plum.

EHS will always have spirit, as shown by the Class of 1962.

Homecoming 1987 . . .

The Homecoming festivities began with the selection of the royalty by the EHS student body. There were 10 outstanding students and the boys were: Steve Hodgman, Kevin Kranc, Jade Metcalf, Ethan Caughey, and Troy Blendell. Girls: Katie Hershberger, Tanya Arnett, Anne Klein, Nola Vaughan, and Darcy Keene.

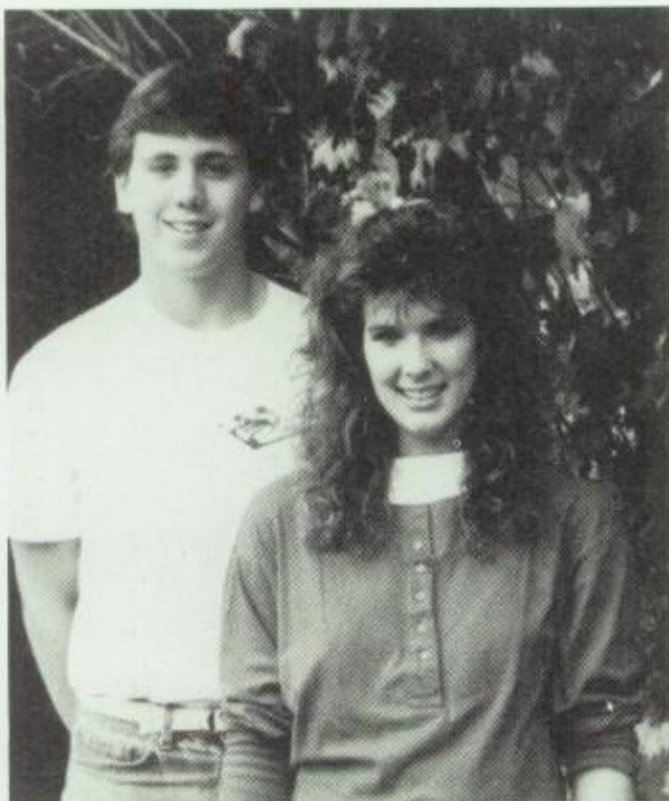

Thursday, the day of coronation, the royalty members gathered in the home-ec room to have dinner and talk with the judges. After dinner, the 10 candidates went to the gym for the coronation assembly. When the speakers (who included master and mistress of ceremonies, Ethan May and Jill Kinyon, and members of the class of 1962) had finished, the king and queen, Troy Blendell and Darcy Keene, were crowned.

The royalty members participated in a number of activities, which included the school pep assembly on Friday, the parade through Enumclaw that afternoon, and half-time at the football game against Tyee Friday night. Finally they and their parents were honored at the Homecoming dance on Saturday night. The court members would agree that participating as a royalty member was an enjoyable and memorable experience.

'We got spirit, yes we do...'

"Two bits, four bits, six bits..."

Which class has the most spirit? The Spirit Week pep assembly was packed full of events. First there were the relay races between the winter athletes, won by the reps for the boys' basketball team. Then both the drill team and cheerleaders performed routines.

"The Dating Game" was played with "Olga Turnyourheadandcough" as the special guest. Varsity Club had a contest where students could vote for their "favorite cheerleader" to kiss a pig and the winner was Anne Klein.

And, of course, there was the annual class competition win which juniors won with the seniors a close step behind.

"Call me a rebel, call me what you will..." The basketball cheerleaders perform Bob Seger's "Old Time Rock and Roll."

After winning the Varsity Club contest, Anne Klein gets "the privilege" of kissing the "guest."

Bachelor #1, Robert Orr, replies to Olga Turnyourheadandcough, (a.k.a. Troy Blendell).

Wild pets for wild people

Pets come in all shapes, sizes, breeds, colors, and species. Since our EHS student body is very fond of wildlife, many students have gone from your more traditional pet to those less common. It makes good sense if you think about it. Shouldn't the wildest of animals also own the wildest of pets?

Peter Schmidt has plenty of fish stories about his pet.

Student government takes charge

The Executive Council had a busy year under the guidance of their advisor Mr. Shelly Thiel.

Leading the Board Of Control (BOC) and the rest of the student body were officers President Jade Metcalf, Vice President Laini Houk, Secretary Ethan May, Tresurer Nola Vaughn, Inter-High Representative Christina Carter, and Secretary of Student Affairs Troy Blendell.

The Executive Council led the ASB in many successful projects such as a well-organized can food drive in November and a toy drive in December. It had also been busy running BOC meetings and fund raisers for the general fund.

The ASB officers, along with the Senior Class President Ryan Brown, took part in a leadership class taught by Mr. Shelly Thiel. The purpose of this class was to plan the activities for the student body throughout the year and to make the school year safe and enjoyable.

Hornet band... 'bug' music

Symphonic Band is made up of the top band members in our school. This year it was working hard to rebuild the band to the Seamount Champs of 1985.

It was performing in a number of places this year, including the winter and spring concerts. In the spring, the band took a trip down through Oregon and San Francisco to compete during spring break.

Being in band is a great opportunity to expand one's musical abilities. Band members Erich Greisel and Samantha Sue have both been accepted to state honor bands that acknowledge their abilities.

Pep Band jams through the stands at basketball games and pep assemblies. On lead guitar is Britt Ulrey, making the band come alive. Rob Carthum on bass and Scot Becker on drums kept us rockin'! Students from EHS will always yell "Tequila" and stomp their feet to "Indians" showing their spirit.

Participants include Cadet & Symphonic Band members as well as non-band members and 8th graders.

French horn player Samantha Sue was honored in the fall in an all-Northwest band.

Brass Band marching in the Homecoming parade to the drumline dance.

Marching band was seen at more than 10 football games this year. Several trips were taken to perform in parades and competitions. One of these was a weekend trip to Central Washington to take part in a 700-piece band during halftime of their Homecoming football game.

The band also went to the Auburn Veterans Day parade and took 2nd place in their marching division.

Choir Students stand out

It became obvious to EHS that it is definitely rich with talent when it comes to the Choir Department, when 17 outstanding performers were displayed at the first recital on Feb. 3. The program was filled mostly with solos, one trio, and the Brickner sisters singing a duet.

Giving the show some variety, the students chose many different styles of music, such as "Dog and Butterfly" sung by Tasha Carr, "Being Alive" sung by Nickole Bamford, Chris Rolecynski singing the show tune "Just in Time," "Honestly" performed by Stephanie Carthum and Cami Kowash finished the show singing "Misty."

New choir director Lynn Haertig proved to the audience that she can and will keep the tradition of being in charge of helping outstanding vocalists.

Anne Klein sings "I've Never Been to Me."

Entertaining her audience is Darcy Keene.

Sisters Pam and Barb Brickner prove talent runs in the family.

Faculty vs. Mariners

Yes, you guessed it right. For Enumclaw's own entertainment, the Seattle Mariners came to battle the Enumclaw District faculty in a game of basketball.

The game was arranged to earn money for various fund raisers. An official major league bat (Phil Bradley's) and a team-autographed baseball were also auctioned off for charity to two high-bidding spectators at the game.

The faculty put a hard fight against the pro athletes, but were still defeated by over 20 points.

Drafting Club draws talented members

Drafting Club officers Mike Western, Brandon Wulff, Blake Crawford, Issac Barry, and Peter Schmidt.

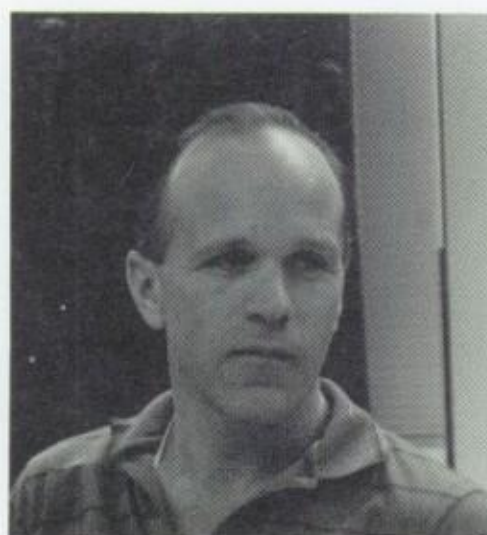

Drafting club members of all levels were working hard this year. Five hours of homework a week to get an "A" is an awful lot for anyone, but these guys take pride in their work. By early spring they had put together one or more complex projects to take to state. Advisor Mr. Dan Petchnick is there to coach and encourage new talent.

International Club was headed this year by the officers President Scot Becker, Vice President Lanae Joubert, Secretary Carrie Olson, Treasurer Cherise Allen, and Historian Kaye Paulson. The individual language classes were represented by Chris Rolczynski for Spanish, Eric Edsinger for German, and Britt Fagerheim for French.

With help of advisors Mrs. Philo Bell, Ms. Carol Brehm, and Mrs. Sabine Rosenberry, taking the place of Miss Whalen after her unfortunate death, International Club held their annual Current Stationery sale and raised money for activities during the year.

International Club activities often include the traditional activities from the countries represented in the club.

Club President Scot Becker arrives at a potluck dinner with his selected entree.

Exchange Students Christina Zeller and Brigit Fiege from West Germany, Andres Bengio from Argentina, Chris Lindh and Mia Sjogren from Sweden, are a very large part of International Club.

Bernie Schlotfeldt, Chris Hansen, Sean McDaniel and Melissa Collette decide who will answer a question during a meet.

Aaron Rogers is flanked by advisors Tom Morrison and Bee Evans.

Team answers quickly, correctly

Thinking hard Aaron Rogers and Laura Harris.

The EHS Knowledge Bowl team tested its brains in the team's third year of competition.

The team, which was advised by Ms. Bee Evans and Mr. Tom Morrison, placed 470th out of the 1,182 schools in the nation (13th out of 39 schools in the state) in the Knowledge Master Open.

The officers of Knowledge Bowl are: Treasurer Christopher Hansen, Historian Heather Graham, Public Relations specialist Laura Harris, and B.O.C. representative Bernard Schlotfeldt. This year the team sold candy bars for 50 cents a bar, hoping to make $1,000 to buy a new buzzer system for answering questions at meets.

Three schools participate at a normal meet. They organize teams of three to four people. There are 60 questions in a round and the contestants buzz in when they know the answer. The questions have to do with literature, philosophy, a few religion questions, earth science, chemistry, grammar, and many other subjects.

Noontime's wilder side

Secretary of Student Affairs Troy Blendell runs the show during noon time activities.

Freshman Jamie Webster gets a good taste of the pie at the annual pie eating contest!

Steve Jensen and Sam Hyatt clean up after the pie-eating contest.

Pull harder! The juniors strive to win the tug-of-war.

Have you ever guzzled a six-pack of Coke and then give your best belch into a bullhorn? Or stuff hundreds of marshmallows in your mouth, then recite a poem? Well, if you didn't, you missed out on a wild time.

The Coke belch and marshmallow stuff were only a few of the fun and exciting noontime activities that EHS's Secretary of Student Affairs, Troy Blendell, put on for us to make the students lunch time enjoyable.

Pie eating contests, jello slurping and everyone's favorite, "Egg Roulette" are memories students will have fun lunch times at EHS.

Taking a dive into their pies are seniors Steve Jensen, Sam Hyatt and Laura Padua.

"Oh, my God, what is he eating?" Ethan May questions as Lavonne Finnerud looks on in disgust.

Wild about Chevys, Dodges . . .

Ever think of what we go through just to get our license? We (or mom and dad) shell out 50 bucks just to take driver's ed., we put our lives on the line in the driver's ed. car, we suffer through traffic safety films, we sweat through the written test, and we are sick with fear through the driving test. Why do we put ourselves through this? It's all for that precious piece of plastic that means freedom to a teenager. But passing the test isn't the hard part. The real test is trying to get mom or dad to let you take the car out on Friday night.

If you're lucky, they'll let you use it without too much trouble. If you're super lucky, they'll buy you something that resembles a car all for yourself. And if you're EXTRA lucky, you might even get what's commonly known as a "sweet machine."

Here, on these pages, are the finest of EHS teenagers' vehicles. We proudly present HOT CARS ON CAMPUS.

Ski bums hit the slopes

Even though the ski season started out later than usual, it didn't stop the ski bums at EHS from hitting the slopes.

Students traveled all over this winter to go skiing! Some went to Oregon to ski Mt. Bachelor and some went to Montana to ski Big Mountain, and others went all the way to Canada to ski at Whistler. Although they traveled to these far away places, they all returned home to ski at Washington's highest-elevated ski resort, Crystal Mountain.

Hornet Helpers

Ms. Jeannie Stougard, leader of the Hornet Helper program.

'Lean on me'

"Hornet Helpers" is a student-teacher support group organization started and managed by Counselor Jeannie Stougard. The participating students in this establishment are selected by a student-teacher survey put on at the beginning of each year.

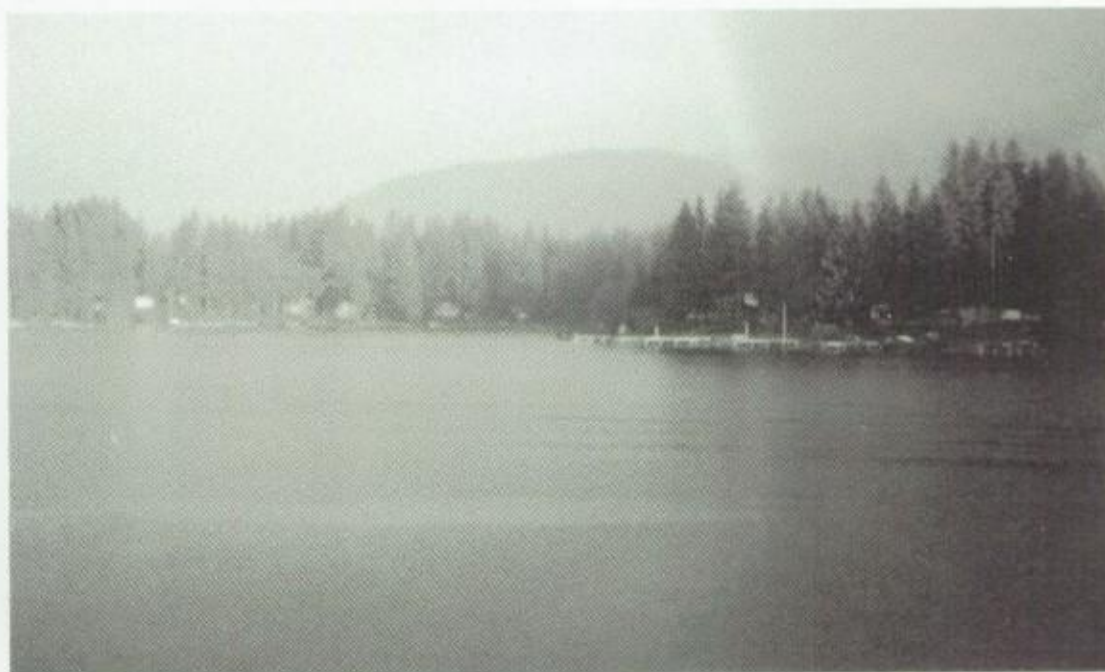

To be an "official" Hornet Helper, one is required to attend a weekend retreat and follow-up meetings where they learn a variety of social skills. The purpose of having Hornet Helpers is to provide assistance for all students who are in need or who want help dealing with many issues, such as coping with stress, death, family problems, building or repairing relationships with others and many more.

This organization has proven to be successful not only for other students but also for the students who have gone through the Hornet Helper program.

The court's advisor Mr. Joe Kristof and student advisor Laini Houk.

Student Court's job is to meet when a student has done something wrong deserving a "trial." The "defendant" has a chance to explain him or herself and then the court decides what, if any, form of punishment will be given.

By having a student court, all EHS students are given a chance to explain to their peers instead of just the administration, therefore allowing them to be judged on an equitable basis.

The court consists of four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, one freshman, a student advisor and a vice-president.

'Born to be wild'

The heartthrob of the concert sings.

The EHS student body was given the opportunity to get wild with "Free Fare" this fall during Patriotism Week as the band returned to Enumclaw after four years with new members.

The message stressed by the band during a school assembly was strong patriotism and in their own way, to be respectful.

Highlighting the assembly was a special performance by EHS Activities Director and "rock star" Shelly Thiel, showing the audience a wild side to him it never saw.

Hip to be 'crew'

"Hip To Be Crew" is the title of a McDonald's commercial in which Enumclaw crew members were filmed in late January. Rob Lewis, Jenny Thomson, and Ethan May, EHS seniors, were paid for a day of filming for the commercial. Lisa Skore, an '87 graduate of EHS, was also involved in the filming. About 120 crew members from around the Northwest were used, but only 40 to 50 were used in the final commercial.

A production crew of 40 came up from California to film at the North Bend, Downtown Seattle, Mountlake Terrace, and Enumclaw stores. Enumclaw was chosen for its view of Mt. Rainier, but unfortunately it was overcast on Friday, January 22, the day of filming.

The commercial aired nationally:

ifteen dedicated dancers made up the Drill Team. Captain Danelle Johnson and advisors Kris Porter and Dana Darby helped coordinate the group and also did the choreography to the team's routines. They added a lot to EHS athletic contests and pep assemblies with dances to "1999," "Girls, Girls, Girls," and "Hazy Shades of Winter."

The girls attended camp at the high school in August and they also participated in the Labor Day parade. In addition to these activities, they participated at state competition in Auburn on March 18-19. At press time, the results were not available to the Cascadian, but Captain Johnson said, "I really think we'll do well at state, especially in the all-state competition."

Sports

*S*ports this year proved that EHS fights hard and proud to keep its record of excellence going.

With our football team ranked fourth in the state, the girls' swimming team finishing second in the state, golf, cross-country and other teams going to state and the wrestlers going to Hawaii, it has shown that the Hornets are truly a part of the wild life.

The year in review

This year's football team was a great one to watch. With returning lettermen such as Chris Colman, Scott Borgen, Mark Cummings, and Kevin Kranc, and not to forget the many others, the year promised to be exciting and rewarding for our men in maroon. And an exciting year it was! The Hornets tore up their opponents and carried themselves through the majority of their season undefeated. The team also managed to grasp and hold a thrilling ranking of fourth in state. Then came the Big Game. The Hornets met Tahoma's Bears on their home field with high hopes, great expectations and the state play-offs within their reach. Although the Bears managed to get by the Hornets, Enumclaw still left the season with an outstanding 8-1 record and big plans for next year.

JV

The JV team made its mark in the Seamount League on a positive note. The team's season was split up with the Liberty games, but toward the end of the season it managed to pull together into a well rounded team with promising future games. The JV players will be an anticipated addition to the varsity team next year.

X-country runs strong in Seamount League

Fast in the grass, are EHS's Tracey Caton, Sandra Starr and Stacey Felker.

Your legs stretch out to bring your feet pounding to the ground, one at a time, causing a forward rhythm of leaves flying from around your shoes and your opponents'. Your hot breath steams the air and touches those ahead of you.

As the finish line comes near, you pass all the runners, but one. Your body aches as you demand more speed from your legs. Hearing only your opponents feet touching the ground as you pass, you are front and forward now, holding the lead.

How far is everybody? You hear their loud breathing and feet echoing loud over your shoulder. As you cross the finish line you are full of great joy.

This year's cross-country team did very well, working hard to prepare themselves so they could become winners.

At the Seamount League meet at Deep Lake, the Hornet girls placed four of its five scorers in the top 10 to cruise away with the crown after putting together a 5-0 dual meet record. The rest of the girls' team placed in the top 16.

Jaala Glaefke, Shannon Duffy and Melanie Bell were in the top five to earn all-Seamount League honors.

The boys' team had two runners placing in the top 10, Clint Morrison and David Duffy. The boys ran strong and finished second in the Seamount League.

In the district meet at Evergreen, EHS placed three girls in the top 10, Glaefke, Bell and Duffy.

The boys placed third at district, with Morrison finishing second overall.

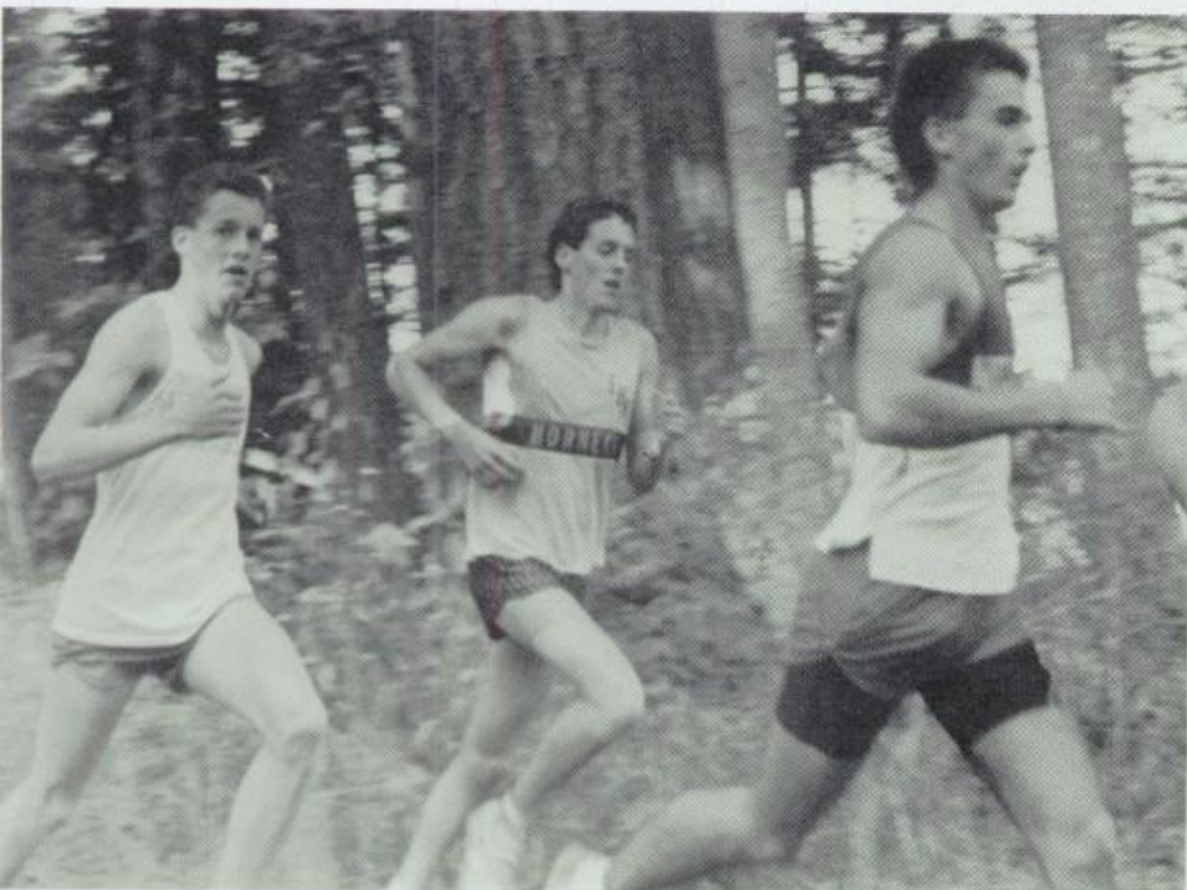

The cross country team also competed at the state meet at Fort Warden State Park, where the boys finished 14th and the girls 12th. Morrison placed 9th in the state.

New coach leads young squad

Starting the year off with a new coach (Debbie Barlow) was a new experience for the varsity girls' soccer team.

"It's always hard for a team to have a new coach, but the girls responded really well to the challenge," said coach Barlow.

The Hornets captured fourth place in the Seamount League. The key factor for this year was the team's three leading seniors who dominated the forward line, defensive line and the goal.

Soccer award winners included seniors Linda Hollandsworth and Samantha Sihto, captains; senior Marsha Main, most inspirational; junior Kim Hulse, 110%; and freshman Tiffany Coleman, most improved.

The junior varsity was led by captain Beth Sihto and hard-working Monica Davis, who won the most improved award. The junior varsity was also under a new coach, Jim Shaurs.

The Seamount League may have to look out for the Hornets next year, when 12 returning seniors will be playing soccer for EHS.

"We'll tear the league up next year," said coach Barlow.

Victories

The 1988 season was an exceptional year for Enumclaw basketball. The four boys' teams combined for a 59-17 record.

Rambunctious crowds packed themselves into Chuck Smith Gymnasium while Coach Bill Hawk's varsity squad was thrashing opponent after opponent. Enumclaw went 8-2 in Seamount League action and were co-champs with Mt. Rainier. The Hornets were 17-3 during the regular season, were ranked as the state's No. 6 team throughout most of the season and won the Seamount League tournament before bowing in their third Seamount King tournament game to Tyeese 61-56. Junior Corey Grennan was named 1st team All-Seamount and sophomore Deric Ronngren was honored on the 2nd team.

The junior varsity, under Coach George Terhaar, finished with a successful 17-3 record. The team was characterized by the aggressive play of its backcourt mates, Frank Griffen and Gerald Berube. The junior guards were a nearly unstoppable tandem for the Hornets.

Sophomore team Coach Rick Holfstrand guided his future stars to an undefeated season 17-0. All but two of the teams they played were AAA schools. Six of the sophomore team members saw some JV action.

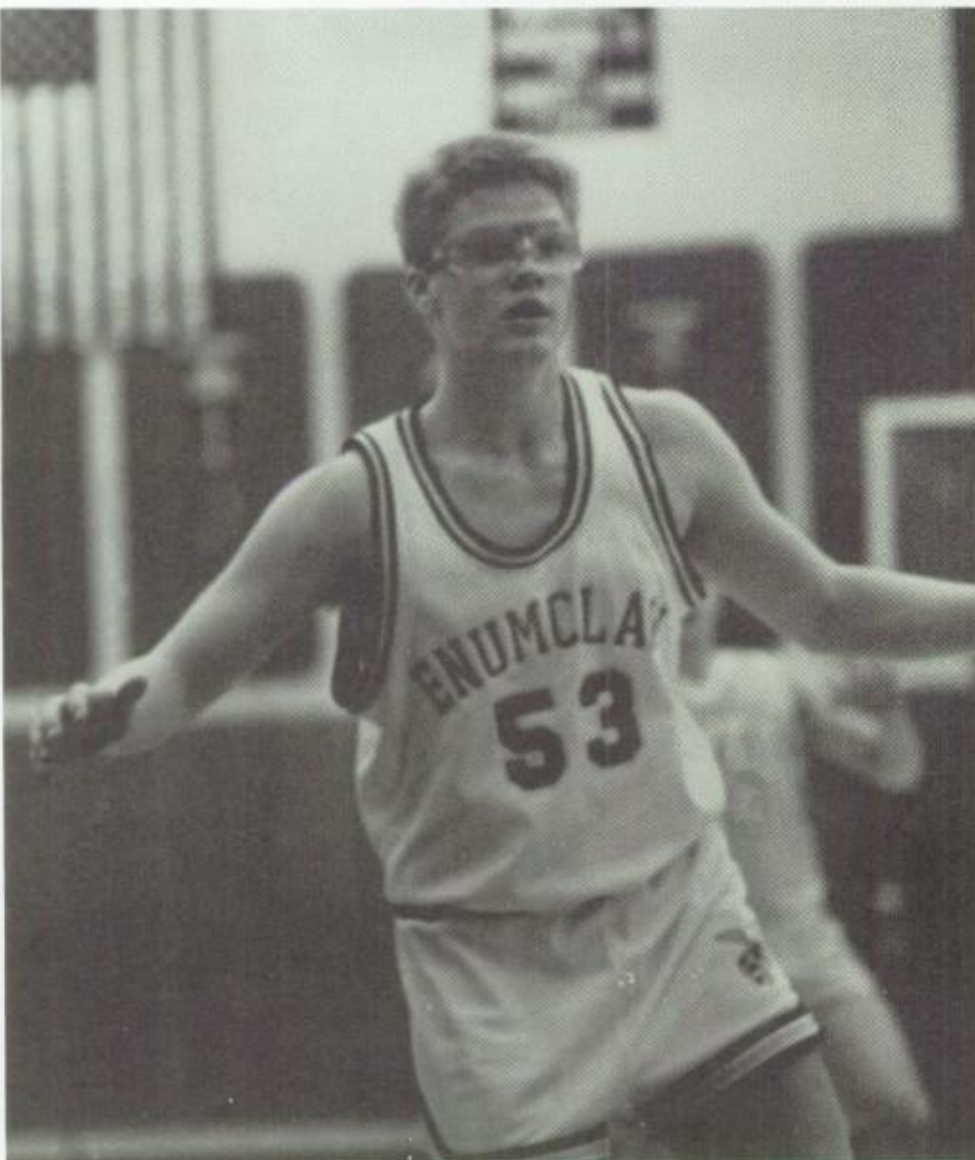

Coach Ron Miller's freshman squad was led by Jason Popp in scoring and posted a 5-9 record.

The team, which was ranked in the Top 10 in the state through most of the season, was perfect in Seamount League action with a 10-0 mark. The team also won the Seamount tournament. (Because of the yearbook company's deadline, the Cascadian is unable to report on final tournament results for the varsity, but will publish them in the spring supplement).

Coach Sue Fallen once again put together a strong girls' JV team. The team had a 17-3 record and played very well together.

The JV team was undefeated in league at 5-0 and took third at the Federal Way Invitational.

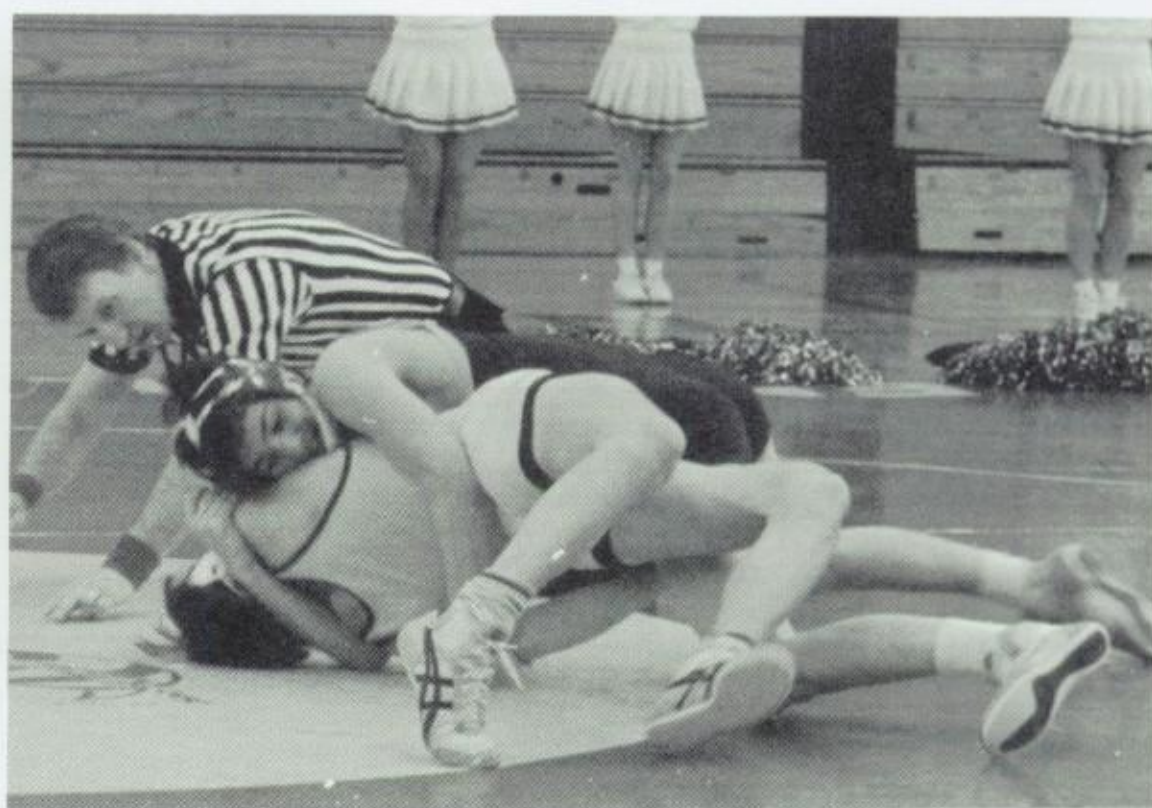

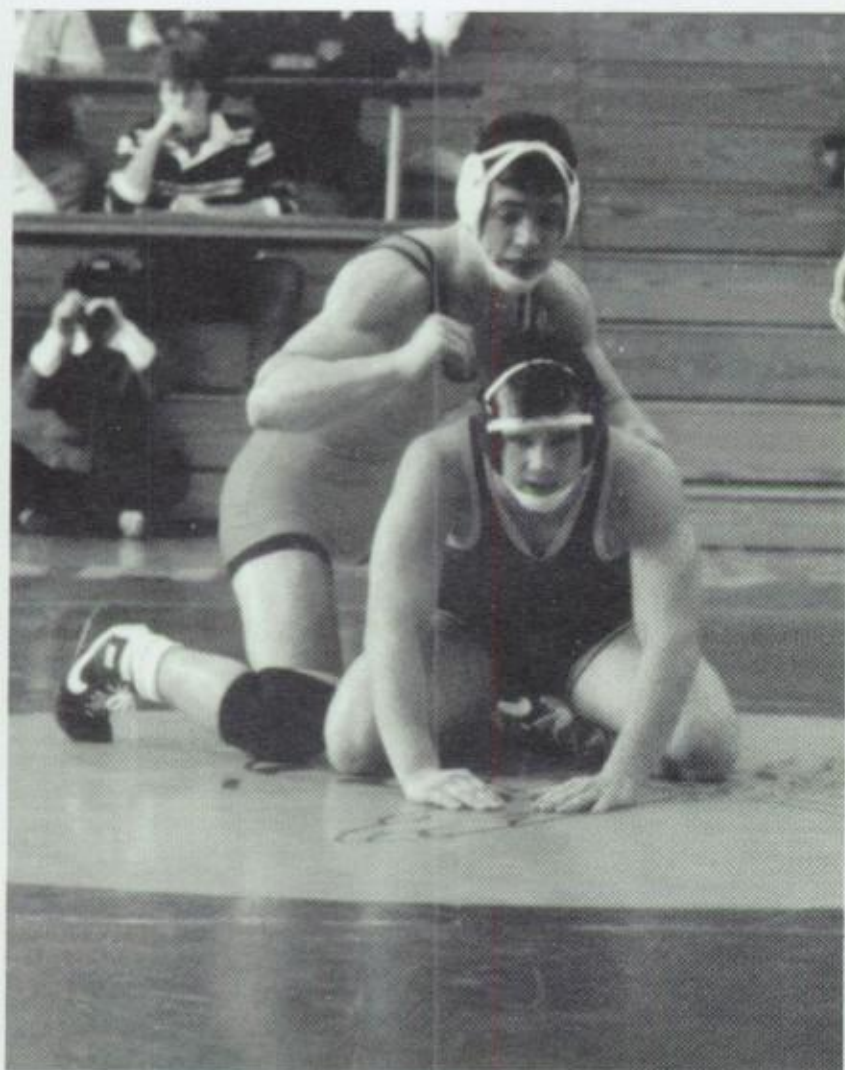

The varsity was able to earn enough money to go and wrestle in Hawaii this year, where it placed third out of 11 teams.

Wrestlers warm up for the league tournament.

Trevor Kremling helps make the tournament a success.

It was off to Hawaii on Christmas morn' for the Enumclaw wrestlers. After all the hard work cutting wood, a baseball tournament, car washes, etc., it finally all came together and became time to wrestle Hawaii.

The wrestlers were situated in the campus dorms of the University of Hawaii with many other athletic teams from all over the U.S, such as swimmers, basketball players, cheerleaders...and it was here that the big wrestling tournament was to be held.

Most of the competition took place in the first two to three days, which left mostly the afternoons for the boys to have fun. They saw things like Diamond Head, Pearl Harbor, toilet bowl and did some touring of the main island besides just kicking back on the Hawaiian beach. They had more planned but got rained out on their last two days.

Over all, the wrestlers did great, placing third in the tournament out of 18 teams and had a fun time doing it.

"Who are you waiting for?" It's the famous bus 4 that the wrestlers are waiting for.

Cheerleaders add to excitement of sports

Second-year cheerleader Darcy Keene

First-year cheerleader Kerry Blakely

First-year cheerleader Marilyn Dore

The cheerleaders dealt with many changes during the year. The biggest one was the addition of seven more cheerleaders, moving the total number from eight to 15. Also, the cheerleaders no longer cheered for two sports, instead, they had the choice of being one of six football, one of six basketball, or one of three wrestling cheerleaders.

This year the WIAA (Washington Interscholastic Athletic Association) changed cheerleading from an activity to a sport. Also, the advisor of three-year advisor Chris Herman, unfortunately resigned, and the job was temporarily taken over by Mrs. Ginger Metcalf.

These various changes were well taken by the cheerleaders. All 15 of them attended cheer camp over the summer and experienced the excitement of winning the camp championships in the sideline chant competition. They also held several fundraisers to help cover the costs of being a cheerleader.

The cheerleaders all agree that although cheering is time-consuming and sometimes stressful, it always exciting, rewarding, and above all, fun.

Darcy Keene cheers the team to victory

Second-year cheerleader Amber Pohlman

First-year cheerleader Tomi Metcalf

First-year cheerleader Heather Snover

The football cheerleaders consisted of Darcy Keene, Amber Pohlman, Kerry Blakely, Tomi Metcalf, Heather Snover and Marilyn Dore. Though they were inexperienced (only Keene and Pohlman had cheered before), they handled themselves well and did an excellent job lifting spirits at games and assemblies.

In September, the cheerleaders were invited to attend the Husky season opener against Stanford. The girls cheered throughout the University District and were the feature attraction of the Husky convoy.

The basketball cheerleaders this year were Anne Klein, Chanin Richard, Kellie Grav, Debby Shane, Heather Rooney and Jill Harbour. With only Klein returning, the new squad had its work cut out for it. The cheerleaders did a fantastic job with new things like "Cheer of the Week" and exciting cheers. They also spent extra time making posters to get Hornet spirits high.

The wrestling cheerleaders were also new, but they made up for it with an extra amount of dedication. Susie Wilson, Marion Watson and Jenny Sharick all put in a lot of time, and hard work to make every match that much more exciting.

Academics

*E*HS continued to maintain an academic program that prepares students for higher education and the challenges of today's working world. Enumclaw students have been able to excel in both these areas and continually will.

Academics

Our high school offers a variety of subjects. Students have choices from math and science to auto shop and English. Conversations about homework, teachers and classes can be heard at any moment in the halls. This, of course, works both ways. As teachers do hall duty, they talk about their students and the latest faculty happenings.

During the holidays, many special events were going on. Advanced chemistry classes made glass ornaments, choir had an alumni party, Mr. Hennessey's honors American lit made a decorated tree . . . the list goes on and on how teachers and students work together to make EHS a fun place and a learning place to go to high school.

Class keeps students fit

Miss Marilyn Topp's second period class is a shape up class. During the semester they do two days of home ec and three days of aerobics every week. In the classroom they do activities such as cooking nutritious food, planning low calorie meals, and developing a positive attitude. The exercise is beneficial to the girls (no boys were in the class first semester), especially if they would like to change their weight.

The class is good for everyone and they like the way they can talk to their friends about their weight in the class. They're supportive to each other. Miss Topp keeps her girls motivated, and at the same time they can support her.

Library, librarians help students research

Enumclaw High School has on its campus a modern learning center. The library is equipped with many ways for students to obtain information. The electronic encyclopedia contains over 30,000 articles for student use. The video disc player can store up to 100,000 still pictures including subjects like earth science, U.S. History and cooking. Students can get information from these, as well as microfiche books, magazines and encyclopedias.

Immediately upon entrance into the library, the librarians make the students feel comfortable and will help them with any research that needs to be done.

Art from science via chemistry

Mr. Jon Belcher's first and second period accelerated chemistry classes took on a special holiday project. They took ordinary pieces of glass tubing and transformed them into works of art (Well, all right, they tried their hardest at making Christmas ornaments).

Some left with success, such as Camie Kowash's glass heart and Christopher Hanson's NOEL sign. Others didn't have as much success and watched the art crack and melt in the flame. But even if they didn't all come home with a treasure, at least they didn't come home with an assignment.

Bus drivers

Want a ride?

Times ticking away as Brent Olson tries to come up with exactly the right answer.

EHS's bus drivers have to deal with a big part of a student's wild life. Driving kids home isn't easy. People sometimes are bouncing off the walls, using squirt guns and throwing paper. How they deal with this is unknown, but they do a good and necessary job.

Underclassmen

The underclassman members make up the majority of our species. Each year we lose seniors and gain freshmen, continuously creating a unique student body. This year all students came together to create P.M.A., a positive mental attitude displayed by the involvement in sports, clubs, activities and student government.

Freshmen: a new breed

Last year at freshmen elections was when they finally realized, "WOW, we're gonna really be high schoolers!" And fine ones they were. The year roared off to a great start with President Jason Popp leading the pack. Hungry for excitement, they also elected Robin Laier as Vice-President, Nikki Crawford as Secretary, and Sheela Grennan as Treasurer. Then the freshmen proceeded to get wild. (Except in Senior Locker Bay, of course)

A day in the life ...

What's it like to be a freshman? We followed our "Typical Freshman X" for a day and here's what we discovered:

"X" begins each day with a relaxing, yet mandatory stroll to the bus stop, unless mom happens to be going by the school that morning. "X" furthers his or her exercising by walking all the way around Senior Locker Bay when absolutely necessary, and the oh so joyous freshman p.e. adds to the daily exercising program. This is one theory about why freshmen are extremely thin.

After an exhausting day at school, our freshman "X" relaxes at home with some good food, friends, and MTV.

Ritually "X" makes one trip to the mall each weekend because the person has nothing to wear. In general, freshman "X" thinks school is boring, but the people seem nice. He or she puts up with seniority (what's left of it) because they look forward to having it one day, too.

Powerhouse Pele

Pele Houk, a 5'10" powerhouse, achieved freshman fame when she won the state swimming championship in the 50-yard freestyle. Pele turned in an impressive time of 25.22 seconds (state record is 25.21) and has a personal best of 25.11. Of the race, Pele said, "I wasn't sure I had actually won. There were a lot of fast swimmers there. I had to look at the time board and check my lane number about four times, then I went 'Wow!! I won!!'".

Pele, who began swimming at the tender age of 4, took a break from swimming in the seventh grade but came back strong in the eighth grade and obviously had a good season this year, too. She also plays softball and basketball for EHS and maintains a 3.5 GPA.

Maybe I got too wild

High school to a lot of people is a new beginning, a chance to meet more people, experience new things, and get a taste of the real world. After one short quarter, some freshmen were asked if they could go back and start everything over what would they do? The majority admitted that they had been a little lazy, goofed around too much and would definitely get better grades. Jason Schmidt said, "Well, I haven't really done anything-maybe I would go back and do something."

Sophomores get in gear

Class advisors for the sophomores this year were Mr. Lyle Becker and Ms. Bee Evans. They helped the sophomores with fundraisers such as selling jewelry. Top salesperson for the sophomores was Lori Kenyon who sold 95 pieces. The sophomores also proudly sent Kristen Griggs to the Hugh O'Brien seminar. The best part of being a sophomore? Health, driver's ed and the sophomore term paper. Of course, the greatest thing is being able to complain about freshmen in the halls. The sophomores owe Mr. Becker and Ms. Evans a big thanks for leading them through a great year.

Learning to drive

One of the highlights of being a sophomore is being able to take drivers ed. And if you passed, finally being able to get your driver's license.

Mr. Dennis Hagan teaches the class. He said that it's hard on the students because drivers ed. is only for one quarter, and the students really have to push themselves to finish 19 modules in 45 days.

Mr. Ben Dacus, Mr. Grunden and Mr. Goodwin drive with the students after school and on Saturdays.

Mr. Hagen says that some of the problems students have on the road are: not paying attention, talking to their friends, not watching what is going on, not buckling up, and not adjusting to the weather.

Working hard in the library

Sophs' footnote: term papers

Fifty notecards, 12 bibliography cards, and a 2,000-word typed term paper. The length of the paper may vary between the sophomore English teachers: Mr. Dan Hennessy, Ms. Bee Evans, and Mr. Russ Atkins. All sophomores attending EHS work in the library for four to six weeks, selecting a topic, taking notes, making an outline.

Depending on the teacher, and their papers, it takes 15-20 minutes to correct each paper. Mr. Hennessy said the format is changing. Instead of writing one long paper they are going to break it up and write two or three shorter papers. These changes will be easier on the library staff, less wasted time in the library, and less footnoting.

It will also give the students a chance to bring up their grade on the second and third paper if they don't do so well on the first.

Guiding the game

Leading the Junior Class this year were: Tim Erickson - Vice President, Piper Hughes - Secretary, and Peter Bernadelli - Treasurer. Janine Blad was elected president, but became sick at the end of her sophomore year and wasn't able to attend school first semester, but another officer was elected.

The Junior Class float placed 3rd in the Homecoming parade, it was based on the theme "Dream On." The juniors had graduates and a wedding scene on the bed of their semi-truck. About 25 juniors rode through town showing their EHS spirit. The juniors are well on their way to becoming another great Senior Class, and are excited about graduating in the spring of 1989.

Leading the species

The Junior Class advisors for this year were Mrs. Carol Lobdell and Ms. Julie Somers. Besides guiding the juniors along, Mrs. Lobdell teaches diversified occupations, and Ms. Somers teaches drama, speech, and creative writing.

These two wonderful organizers spend hours of extra time making sure that the juniors float was finished, and their Dec. 11 dance was ready to go. The dance had about 250 people present, and Mr. Shelly Thiel said, "They were the best decorations I've ever seen for a dance!"

Brickner: 1st runner-up

Early in the year, Barb Brickner had been given an opportunity of which she pursued. She had entered and won in a Miss Teen of Washington pageant and then was able to compete in the Miss Teen of America pageant which took place Dec. 1, in Hilo, Hawaii.

She went in the pageant as the youngest of the 12 out of 50 finalists and came out first runner up. She received a $2,000 scholarship, a ring and a bowl trophy.

At the pride assembly, Barb thanked the school for its support in reaching her goal.

Animals from another pack

Mia Sjogren looks out onto her homeland in Sweden.

This year EHS had six foreign exchange students.

Christina Zeller, from West Germany, lived with Wally Martin and her family. Her hobbies are tennis, playing the piano, reading and bikeriding.

Andres Bengio, from Argentina, plans on entering college in Argentina and someday become a doctor.

Chris Lindh, from Sweden, says about EHS, "There's a lot more school spirit here than in Sweden." He lives in a town called Laholm on a chicken farm where he plans to return after his year here.

Birgit Fiege, from West Germany, liked the breaks between second and third periods, "During the breaks you get a chance to talk with your friends and meet new people." She enjoys activities such as skiing, playing squash and drawing.

Mia Sjogren, from Sweden and who stayed with Diana Terry, said she enjoyed being here because the people are more open and there are more things to do.

Christina Murai, from Japan, has been here for two years. Her favorite hobby is playing the piano.

Christina Zeller pauses for a smile while standing on Senior Heater.

Christina Murai practices on the piano, her favorite pastime.

In the 80's, anything goes!

Fashion is a useful way of expressing oneself. Each individual taste varies from person to person, and is communicated through their dress.

The wave of trends through Enumclaw this year has included brown leather jackets, acid wash denim (jeans, jackets, skirts, you name it), short miniskirts, leather boots, the "spike" look in hair, and earrings (for guys!).

No matter what the recent trends may be, the distinct groups at EHS show their point of view through their clothing and hair styles. Be it the "Preppy," "Rocker," "Punk," "Jock," or even "Good 'Ol Boy" look, each expresses a distinct personality and helps create colorful and interesting aspects of fashion in the 80's.

The "rocker" look displayed by Michelle Gilbertson, Robert Torti, Tasha Carr, Buddy Petrusse, Cindy Aastad, Scott Nelson.

A group with their own distinct style. Benji Krahn, Tym Swain, Joseph Kovacs and Andy Krahn.

The hottest trends in footwear, cowboy boots, boots with fringes, lace-up oxfords, colorful high-top Converse and leather moccasins.

The ever-popular logger-look, made famous by Travis Harp, Todd Sharick and Troy Coby.

Tina Semprimoznik models a popular outfit for many girls this year, the baggy sweatshirt and short skirt.

Heather Hughes displays her own style and sophistication in the halls of EHS.

Cool and laid-back, Jeremiah Morgado dresses in comfortable acid-wash Levis, baggy sweatshirt and boat shoes.

"Tough guys" on campus, Jim Ochs and Darcy Scheetz, show their individuality with their hairstyle and earrings.

Best friends

How can one tell the story of best friends?

They're together all the time, they complement like cookies and milk, they're a definite pair.

But that doesn't tell it all. The whole story is told in the private talks that only best friends can have, the crazy things you do just for fun. It's in secret, silly inside jokes that only you two can share. It's in feeling comfortable, knowing you have someone you can count on. It's in lending an ear, taking some time, sharing your dreams.

Being best friends isn't about going everywhere together or doing all the same things. It's about loyalty, honesty, trust, openness, and yes, even love.

Stop for a second and think of your best friend. Are you smiling? Good--that's what this story is all about.

Carrie Burkhardt and Amber Pohlman "I know she's wild, but I love her anyway."

Rocherra Breeding smiles for the camera while Beth Smith watches "him" go by.

"She isn't heavy, she's my best friend," says Lane Gramann about Kelli Schneider.

Best buds forever are Amanda Romine and Nicole Morrison.

My Best Friend

Whenever I need a friend, you always seem to be there
 You help me with my problems and our joys together we share
 I can't imagine life without a friend like you
 Once we get together we are an indivisible two
 All the fun I've shared with you can never be replaced
 Together we've had many good times and conquered the problems we've had to face
 So I want you to know that I am always here
 If you ever need a friend to make your thoughts clear
 And when I must leave you as many good friends sometimes part
 I leave you with good memories and an important place in my heart

Wrestlers Alex Crabb and Pat Eaton have been best friends since seventh grade.

LOSING

As I look back on the year, it seems like just yesterday that the Cascadian staff was struggling on our first deadline and the class was figuring out picas, spreads, ladders, etc.

We'd like to apologize for any mistakes or omissions we might have made. We tried our hardest to avoid them, but somehow they always seem to sneak themselves in.

I want to thank all of the staff for its work. There are a few staffers I'd like to especially thank.

Brandi Pierce and R.J. Knuuttila did probably the best job selling ads ever done for the Cascadian.

Our head photographers, Lynn Warren and Karin Burnside, and two other photographers, Keith Wills and Ashley Bryan, all did a fantastic job. I'd like to thank them for sacrificing their time to go to events and take photos.

I'd also like to thank my sports editor, Heidi Clark, not only for all her work but for being a good friend in the mist of confusion.

And I'd like to thank Amber Pohlman and Kellie Dyer for their help in writing.

We tried some new things this year. We typed our copy on computer disks and sent the disks over to the company (Herff Jones) where it converted the disks to professional typesetting. The printing process of the photos through the company also changed slightly.

Before I close, I'd like to thank Mr. Gibowski for all his help and coming all those Saturdays from Renton.

In spite of the frustration, tears, mistakes and tough deadlines, it has been fun and given me the biggest challenge in my life.

I hope you enjoy the book.

Editor-in-chief
Darcy Keene

Graduation 1988

The senior class of '88 took their final steps from Enumclaw High School into the adult world. The ceremony took place on June 3, 1988. Due to several days of heavy rain, graduation was held indoors in the Chuck Smith Gymnasium. Even so, the 246 seniors' enthusiasm and spirit was high. As seniors walked forward for their diploma, some greeted Mr. Dan Farr (President of the School Board) with golf balls, baseballs and a neon green shoe. After the ceremony, the feelings and high spirits of the graduates carried over to their senior activity at Wild Waves.

Some top scholars, Roxann Johnson, Kaye Paulson, Jason Passino, Mike Mitton and Merrick McGinnis, stand and anxiously await their diplomas.

President Jade Metcalf gives her opinion on parenting, adding an emotional, "I love you, Mom and Dad."

In Memory

Luana Ungaro (born March 23, 1970)
(died April 23, 1988)

- written by Mrs. Ungaro -

Luana Ungaro, my daughter, was a senior at Enumclaw High School during the 1987-88 school year. She grew up on the Plateau, making friends at Westwood Elementary and she also attended junior high in Enumclaw.

Luana participated in the 4-H Club during junior high and was attending Green River Community College during her senior year. She was 18 for one short month when she lost her life in a car accident in Grants Pass, Oregon. Contrary to some gossip, Luana didn't die because she was intoxicated or because of drugs. She died in a freak accident, and no amount of speculation will bring her back, only tarnish our memory of her.

She loved people and always had a smile or a hello for them. Let's remember her for those things.

YESTERDAY

Where have you gone since yesterday
And left us lonely here?
Today you seem so far away
Who yesterday was near.
No map of ours, that we may use,
Your journey can we trace;
We only know you've reached your Home
And seen your Father's face.

Seattle Trade Center hosts Senior Ball

These couples toasted the prom and their soon-to-be graduation.

Later in the evening, Clark and Browne were crowned. The 10 Senior Ball Court members were: Jason Birkliid and Clark, Ryan Brown and Sara Hendrickson, Browne and Erikka Jameyson, Ethan May and Penny Reich, Brandon Wulff and Channin Richard.

'The Importance of Being Ernest'

Algernon Moncrieff (Kirk Wilson) and John Worthing (Ross Farr) boast about their brides to be.

Trying to give Cecily Cardew (Heidi Becker) her insightly advice, Mill Prism (Cami Kowash) finds her pupil all too interested in her diary.

John Worthing sets the scene for his play to Mill Prism and Dr. Chausuble (Bernie Schlotfeldt).

Lady Bracknell (Brandie Pierce) gives her motherly advice as to why the young couple should not marry.

Kirk Wilson-Algernon Moncrieff
Bernie Schlotfeldt-Dr. Chausuble
Cami Kowash-Miss Prism
Ross Farr-John Worthing

Heidi Becker-Cecily Cardew
Jill Harbour-Gwendolyn Fairfax
Brandie Pierce-Lady Bracknell
Steve Novak-Merriman, Lane

The play is set in olden day England with coats and ties, accompanied by long flowing dresses. It was written by Oscar Wilde. The end shows an interesting twist of plot bringing out the truth and finding happiness for all.

The first spring play was well performed by all of the actors and actresses. Ernest is a role that both John Worthing (Ross Farr) and Algernon Moncrieff (Kirk Wilson) portray to win the hand of the girl of their dreams.

'The House of Blue Leaves'

The scene sets the not so typical day for Bananas (Jill Kinyon) as a celebrity (Sheli Petersen) drops by.

"Oh my God!" exclaims Bunni (Tracy Wolfson) in one of her fits about Bananas.

"Don't Worry," counsels Artie (Troy Blendell) to his producer friend Billy (Ethan May), who just lost his wife in a freak accident.

The lighting crew was headed by Aaron Rogers and Chris Hansen.

A slightly insane son of Bananas and Artie tells of his plans to blow up the Pope.

"The House of Blue Leaves," by John Guare, is a tragic story of shattered dreams. It centers around the Pope's visit to New York in the 60's. Artie Shaughnessy (Troy Blendell), a would-be songwriter, lives in a run-down apartment with his insane wife, Bananas.

Artie and his girlfriend, Bunni Flingus (Tracy Wolfson), want to travel to California to seek fame and fortune in the movies with Billy Ein-horn (Ethan May), a movie producer friend of Artie's.

The story ends in tragedy as Bunni runs off with Billy and Artie puts an end to Bananas by strangling her.

The play was the second of two spring plays. This was an unusual case for EHS, and a lot of work for director Ms. Julie Somers, but well worth it for the audience.

State FFA elects another EHS president

Senior Aaron Johnson was elected as Washington State's new 1988-89 FFA president, succeeding EHS alumnus Pat Oster. It was only the second time in state history that one chapter has had two presidents back-to-back. The election of Johnson took place at the 58th annual state FFA convention May 19-22 at WSU.

Other highlights for EHS FFA members were Denise Palmer placing third in the state in the State Prepared Public Speaking contest, Katrina Hughes placing in the top 12 in the Creed contest and the Rituals Team (Greg Wyles, Hughes, Janna Manson, Julie Armstrong, Candi Morrow and Todd Stensland) also finishing in the top 12.

Also in the spring, Danielle Hansen was declared Grand Champion for the lamb she showed at the Northwest Junior Livestock show late in April.

Love it, you bet we do,
To it we will be true,
I'm tellin' you!"*

"I said a-boom-chicka-boom!" - a familiar cry among campers and counselors alike, all trying desperately to lose their voice before the week's end.

1988 Camp Enumclaw was a wild time for all, with everyone trying to cheer the rain away the first week, and basking in the sun the second.

Raps were popular for cabin cheers and name tags ranged from Mickey Mouse ears to suspenders. Cabin groups met at the log screaming their hardest trying to impress the head counselors, Miss Deana Collins and Mr. Karl Hirschel. The loudest cheer and the straightest line meant you were excused first to go risk your good health sampling the cook's newest masterpiece of last night's leftovers (cleverly disguised in the form of soup or casserole).

Counselors rushed kids through 30-second showers each night and a bedtime story, then ran off to relax and sing "Father Abraham" at the late-night counselor meetings. Nearly 50 high school students volunteered to take responsibility for the 150 sixth grade students that came from J.J. Smith, Southwood, Westwood and Black Diamond to experience the out-of-doors firsthand.

The week ended with tears galore and close friends all around.

Track athletes take on league

The Flying Hornet track team tore up the league in '88. The girls went undefeated, clutching the league title. As for the boys, due to the loss of seniors and small numbers, they placed second.

Other track members that went to state included the girls 1600MR team, which ranked fourth, consisting of Stacy Felker, Jaala Glaefke, Pam Brickner, and Anne

Varsity boys' baseball . . .

. . . crack hits

Even with the rainy days, EHS varsity baseball had a fairly good season. Team members played well. Leaders of the Hornets this year were Mike Western, Frank Griffin, and Syd Russel for pitching, and Griffin, again, for batting with a .510 average. Griffin started out with a great season but suffered an ankle injury towards the end.

All League players this year included: Steve Hodgman, 1st team all-league outfielder; Frank Griffin, 1st team all league outfielder; Rob Lewis, 2nd team all league catcher; Mike Western 2nd team all league pitcher; Jason Noble, all league honorable mention and Kevin Kranc, all league honorable mention.

Coach Chuck Basteyns said, "I thought we'd win more games in league. We lost three tough games that could've made a difference but I think there were some excellent pitching performances."

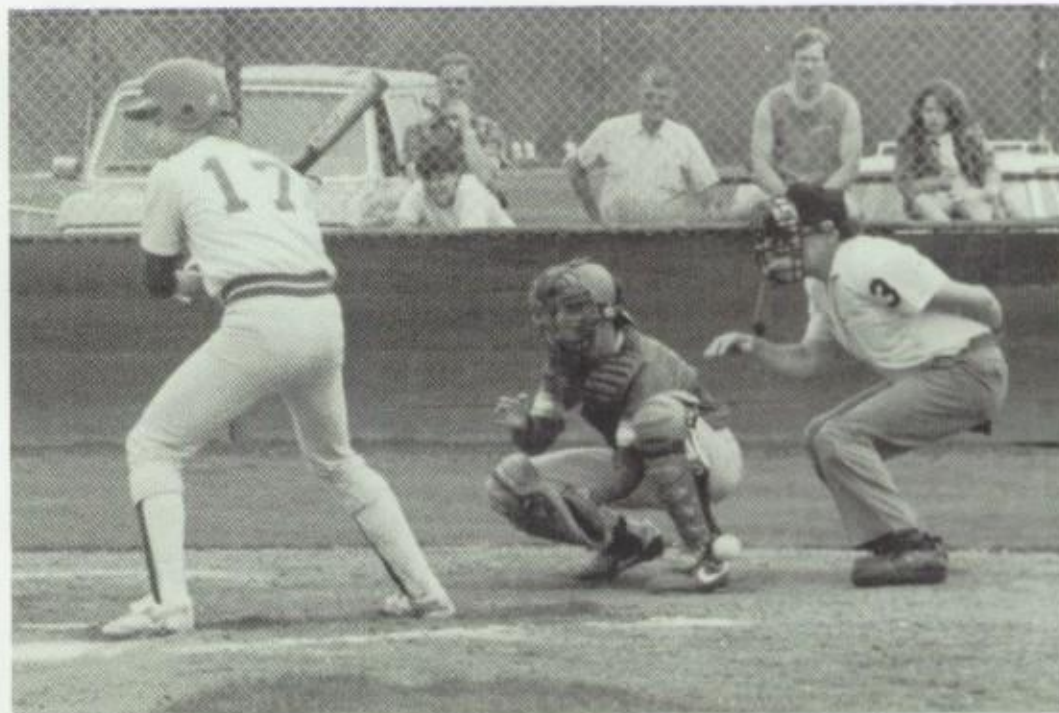

The Hornets finished out the season with a 3-7 record in the Seamount League and a 9-9 record overall.

Individually, Linda Hollandsworth in '88 set three school records: hits (44), batting average (.530) and homeruns (9). Outfielder Hollandsworth made 1st team All-Seamount League along with third baseman Marcy Grow and second baseman Kim Hulse. Outfielders Angie Bernadoni and Laini Houk made the 2nd team and teammates Tami Highfill, Penny Reich and Pele Houk were honorable mention. New coach Tim Nelson was voted Coach of the Year.
